MosaikTop

Natural & Essential Line

Inspired by stone

- Coated and coloured quartz sand
- Eye-catching unique quartz stone effect
- Impact resistant and waterproof
- Durable and resilient

Baumit MosaikTop is a thin-layer quartz render solution that due to its hard-wearing, waterproof properties, is ideal for use as part of a building's plinth zone.

Formulated for strength and durability MosaikTop is also versatile enough to be applied across a wider area of a building as a decorative render. The blend of coated, coloured quartz sand and raw mineral flakes creates a quartz stone effect for a unique and individual design statement to an entire façade of a residential or commercial building.

Combining colour and texture with MosaikTop

Colour and texture are two key design elements. When used in combination during the design phase of a building, they can be used to emphasise a building's character, structure and materials to communicate the general essence of a building, whether it's to evoke a light and cheerful presentation or conversely, a serious and solid one.
